GERMAN WILL RULE FINLAND

CROWN "OFFERED" TO DUKE
ADOLPH FREDERICH AND AC-CEPTED BY HIM.

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, July 27.—Finland's crown has been offered to Duke Adolph Friedrich of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, uncle of the reigning grand duke of Mecklenburg-Schwerin and accepted, according to a Zurich dispatch to Le Journal. The offer was made by a Finnish landtag deputation and the duke will return with it on a Finnish warship. The coronation, the dispatch adds, takes place within two weeks.

WHY CHICKENS PICK FEATHERS.

The feather-picking habit is usually due to the chickens not getting a sufficient amount of protein feed, represented by meat scraps, skim milk, alfalfa meal, etc. The feathers themselves are made up quite largely of protein, and when this food is lacking they will go to eating feathers in order to get it. They also need this protein feed in order to make eggs.

Hogs get the chicken-eating habit for the same reason. Chickens are quite largely protein feed, and when the hogs do not get quite enough protein they will endeavor to get it by eating chickens.

The blood, muscles and feathers of chickens are largely made up of these protein feeds. These feeds are therefore especially important to young chickens in order that they can develop feathers, and must be had by mature birds in order for them to lay eggs.—H. Embleton, Department of Poultry Husbandry, Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater.

POINTED QUESTION PUT TO THE KAISER.

(By the Associated Press)
Geneva, July 27.—"How many sons has your majesty lost? How many have been wounded or mutilated?"

These questions, incorporated in a telegram were sent to the German emperor yesterday by Pastor Dryander, founder of the new liberal German-American paper Friedensrue (Peace Call) of Zurich.

"In the event that there have been no casualties in the imperial family," the telegram continues, "we demand an immediate explanation." Emperor William has not replied.

LULL ON MARNE BATTLE FRONT

INFANTRY TAKING BREATHING
SPELL. ARTILLERY HAM-
MERS POCKET.

(By the Associated Press)
A lull, probably only for a few hours, has intervened in the Marne salient battle. The allied offensive although unchecked by the Germans had slowed down. Enemy counter attacks have ceased for the moment, meanwhile artillery is still hammering German communications, bases and depots within the pocket between Rheims and Soissons.

From the Ourcq to the Marne and along the river the Germans have been cleared almost entirely from Fere and Rize forests and Tournelle wood and now stand with their back against the plateau between Fere-en-Tardenois and Velle-en-Tardenois.

FRENCH HONOR DEAD AMERICAN SOLDIERS

(By the Associated Press)
Paris, July 27.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—Four, five and in many cases, six thousand miles from their maternal hearth, the American dead, heroes of the second battle of the Marne who have succumbed from grievous wounds in Paris hospitals, are mourned daily by French mothers, sisters and fathers who feel the emotions of these heroes' kindred at home.

Daily, the funerals leave the city hospitals for the little Suresnes cemetery dedicated to Americans by the city of Suresnes, located on a hill on the West of Paris overlooking the French metropolis. Daily, the Republican Guard in their picturesque and historic military attire march forth to the funeral to bestow France's regard upon these American heroes; and though no volley is fired because it is forbidden by the French authorities, the American bugler sounds "taps" with impressive tuning.

A service is first held in the little chapel in the hospital. Protestant chaplains officiate over the dead of their faith and Catholic over theirs. The hospital organization such as can be spared, including nurses, orderlies, clerks and doctors attends the service.

The bodies are borne from the chapel to waiting ponderous army motor trucks. The Republican Guard and the marines form an escort. As each body is brought to the conveyance, these military units execute "present arms." When all the dead have been placed upon their military bier, the procession to the cemetery starts. At the head are the chaplains in motor cars. Then follow the motor trucks and last the guard of honor.

The coffins are draped with American flags. Each one bears two wreaths, one given by the Republic of France and another by the City of Paris. Tricolor ribbons bind the wreaths. In letters of gold, the ribbons are marked "Aux Defenseurs de la Patrie."

The little procession winds its way along the boulevards. The French know its significance. With out exception as it passes, every pedestrian stops, uncovers and bows in homage to the American heroes.

Reaching the summit of the hill of Suresnes, the interment of the bodies begins. A crowd of French mothers and sisters gathers at the graves. They reverently listen to the chaplains pronounce the last words, and heavy of heart, they feel the experience of those thousands of miles away.

The American bugler takes his place and slowly and feelingly sounds "taps." The assemblage is moved to tears. At the final tone, the command is given and the military escort returns to its post in the city. The mothers and sisters return to their homes feeling the heaviness of the committal of the American hero to the grave. Their thoughts are carried to the mothers and sisters back home.

The Suresnes cemetery is the gift of the Suresnes municipality to the American army. It is beautifully situated in the midst of a cluster of trees. The city of Paris can be viewed from the location. The walks are arranged in the form of a cross. The surveying was done by American engineers.

BALKAN STATES TO SHARE IN VICTORIES OF ALLIES

London, July 26.—A. J. Balfour, secretary for foreign affairs, speaking today at a meeting to inaugurate the Siberian aims committee of London, said he hoped that one of the results of the war would be the solution of the Balkan problem.

"Please heaven," he added, "the Balkan states will share the allied triumph and when peace is declared —not a German, nor a British nor a French peace, but the peace of civilization—they who with us, have poured out their blood and treasure in the struggle, will enjoy the fruits of their labors."

In a letter to Ada friends H. D. Harrison, formerly ticket agent at the Frisco station, tells of his return to the front trenches, having been in the hospital for sometime as the result of being gassed and wounded.

Bridging the Canadian river is becoming popular all along the line. Pott county has up a proposition to vote $75,000 to build a bridge at Asher with government assistance, thus linking the two sides of the river at another important point. The Shawnee-NewsHerald is putting up a hard fight for the bridge. In fact, it has been urging this bridge for several years and this time bids fair to win out.

Foch was able to stop the heaviest German drive in eight days but he has kept up a steady hammering on the Hun forces for ten days. While not moving as rapidly as at first he is giving them no rest and is tightening his grip on the pocket which the Germans dug out of French territory in previous drives. Whether he succeeds in bagging the entire bunch or not, his achievement will stand as one of the greatest of the war and places Foch among the world's greatest commanders.

CAPTURED GERMAN LETTERS SHOW DISCOURAGEMENT

(By the Associated Press)
London, July 27.—(British Wireless Service)—Hope of winning the war is fading fast in the German trenches, if letters taken from some German prisoners accurately reveal the morale of some of the German troops.

"The Americans are in front of us and they are terrible men," read one letter taken from a German prisoner. "We no longer have any hope," he continued. "My company of 130 is down to 30."

"We should stop before we are utterly demoralized," wrote another German soldier. "I am always hoping the French may succeed in roping us in. We should then at any rate be relieved from the moral anguish we are continually suffering. Our strength is becoming more and more sapped and if some of us do get home we shall be broken men."

The Eyes of the World.

The co-operation of America's most famous and widely read story writer, Harold Bell Wright, with W. H. Clune, associated producer of "The Clansman" and make of "Romona," and the expenditure of several months' labor at unlimited cost, give credence to the claim that "The Eyes of the World," which comes to the Majestic Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, July 29-30 next, is one of the great film ventures of the times.

Sold in book form of the times, one million buyers, "The Eyes of the World" now comes in visual form with all its romance, gripping adventure and scenic settings, intensified by the dramatic camera.

The new production recently had its premiere in Los Angeles, played for seven solid weeks in the big auditorium theatre, the largest west of Chicago, to more than 75,000 people, breaking all theatre records of the Pacific coast. For this production the author amplified his story and actively assisted in the day-by-day work of interpreting his characters for the screen.

NOTE: Sections 26 and 27, Article 10, of the Constitution, requires the levying of AN ANNUAL TAX sufficient to constitute a SINKING FUND for the payment of the principal of all bonds at maturity, in addition to an amount sufficient to pay all maturing interest coupons as they fall due.

The amount required to be raised annually and reserved to retire bonds at maturity is ascertained in the following manner: First, Ascertain from Columns 1 and 3 the number of years the bonds are to run. Second: Divide total amount of bonds issued (Column 4) by number of years maturity. Third: Having ascertained the amount to be raised annually (Column 7), then multiply that amount by the number of years that bonds have to run (Column 8), and the product will be the amount that should be entered in Column 9, that is, the "amount required by law to be raised to June 30th., 1918, to retire bonds at maturity."

HE CURED CHRONIC COLD WITH VINOL

Mr. Bagley's Letter Printed
Here as Proof

Dunn, N. C.—"I suffered with a chronic cold for four months, coughed day and night. Had to keep on working when I was not able to. I saw Vinol advertised and tried it, and I want to tell you it just cured that cold in a short time."—J. C. Bagley, Dunn, N. C.

That's because Vinol is a constitutional cod liver and iron remedy which aids digestion, enriches the blood and creates strength. Then chronic coughs and colds naturally disappear. Your money will be returned if it does not help you.

The Germans were eager at first to test the fighting qualities of the despised American troops in France and they have found out several things in this line since the Americans took their places in the trenches. They will continue to spring surprises as the campaign progresses.

The Okmulgee Democrat now takes the Associated Press leased wire service, thus placing itself among the metropolitan papers of the state. It is doubtful if another paper in Oklahoma has made the progress the Democrat has in the past ten years, traveling, as it has, the road from a small country weekly to its present position.

Not a day passes now that the papers do not carry accounts of the rough handling of some disloyalist, usually a tar and feather party. One of the latest was at Tahlequah where the socialist nominee for congress two years ago was thus dealt with. Socialist agitators have come in for quite a little of this drastic treatment, for they have so long been accustomed to fight everything the government did that they naturally fell for the German propaganda and began a crusade against everything that had to do with the war. They have no doubt been surprised at what happened, some going to jail and others being dealt with more swiftly by the citizenship of the communities where they attempted to spread their seditious opinions. They are fast learning the truth of the old maxim that silence is golden, especially when the nation is battling for its very existence.

The official figures on the Liberty Loan sent out from Washington appear disappointing small on their face, but they really represent only a fraction of what has been actually subscribed. These figures represent only what has been actually turned into the federal reserve banks to date and only a small part has been thus reported. For instance, the state of Oklahoma has subscribed more than $25,000,000, but the report from the entire federal reserve district shows less than $2,000,000. As soon as the various counties turn in their quotas the figures will take a big jump upward.

WHAT AM I DOING?

Ask yourself this question: "What am I doing toward helping my country win the war?" If you are not doing something don't you think you are a very lukewarm American?

The government doesn't ask much of you. It merely asks you to do without unnecessary things and invest money saved thereby in securities. You can buy War Savings Stamps and assist the nation.

Remember that every time you buy a War Savings Stamp, which is redeemable in gold in 1923, you are firing a shot at Berlin.

THE MAIL

There's a time in the day with our soldiers, Be it somewhere in France or in camp. That the trials of the day are forgotten. And the worries and troubles decamp. Their faces light up bright and eager. With a laughing that tells its own tale. When the bugle calls out clear and welcome. That it's time to distribute the mail.

Now their faces show varied emotions. As they eagerly scan every page; Here is one who bursts out with laughter. Another with face set and grave. But there are some who watch with a longing. They are lonely and sad-eyed men. Wishing and longing and hoping. Some one would write to them.

So you who remember some fellow. Who has gone out to battle the foe. Take your pen and write him a letter. That will set his heart all aglow. It will make all his life seem brighter.

The clouds will lift like a veil. When he hears the bugle calling. It's time to distribute the mail. NORVAL R. CORKHAM, Co. F., C. A. C., Ft. Moultrie, S. C.

Make the Most of Everything.

If we are not doing as well as we think we ought to we may not have far to go for the trouble. Most of us have more time than we profitably employ, more money than we actually need, more talents than we make use of, and more friends than we keep in friendly touch with. If we would make the most of everything we would do better than we thought it possible.

The War Savings Stamp is the solar plexus of the great mass of the American people and will make the Prussian and his militaristic system take the count.

Three hundred and fifty telephone calls a second!

That is the average volume in the Bell System day and night, and at certain hours it is more than doubled.

The operating force must keep the "tracks" clear, ready for every cross-town or transcontinental call. In these unprecedented times the importance of each connection is magnified, as is the necessity for steady performance on the part of the operators.

They are counting no effort too great, and they are also counting on the public to appreciate this and to accord them deserved consideration at all times.

HOW FRENCH REPELLED FIERCE GERMAN ATTACK

(By the Associated Press)

French Front, March 15.—Only the heroic tenacity of a small body of French troops in holding the fort of La Pompelle, south-east of Rheims, prevented a strong force of Germans from capturing that old and long dismantled work on March 1.

After pouring over fifty thousand shells of all calibres on to the position and pumping over all the surroundings thick clouds of the most deadly poisonous gases, two battalions of Crown Prince Frederick's selected troops advanced to the attack. All the barbed wire entanglements had been uprooted during the bombardment and the centers of resistance in front of and around the fort had been demolished when the assaulting infantry waves came forward.

The ground and the trenches forming the only obstacles between the German lines and the French positions had been leveled and the few French advanced posts and retired first on to their supports and then in to the casemates of the fort itself, where with the rest of the small garrison they prepared to fight to the last.

As the churning up of the ground about the fort had obstructed the field of fire of the machine guns, the Germans met with only slight resistance until they had reached the moat. This was more than half filled with debris resulting from the heavy bombardment and the attacking troops were able to advance to the stone walls. There, however, they stopped in spite of their liquid fire machines.

One of these implements was tried on a heavy timber door leading into the southern side of the fort, but the door held firm. Meanwhile, from behind a shelter of sandbags at one end of the moat, a group of hardy spirits of the garrison opened fire on the Germans with a machine gun and killed or put out of action all who were attempting to place cans of high explosives against the walls of the fort.

The garrison consisted of colonial troops of tried courage and they fought up to the traditions of the corps. Soon the enemy found their efforts were doomed to failure and retired to the advanced work which, together with several bastions, they retained for some hours.

The defenders communicated with their comrades in the rear, a counter attack was organized and, although the fighting which ensued was of the fiercest kind, the Germans were driven out of every inch of trench they had occupied and forced to flee in disorder to their own lines.

Evidence of the nature of the struggle were still to be found when the correspondent of the Associated Press arrived at the fort soon after the cessation of the bombardment. In the barbed wire fronting the enemy trenches were the bodies of dozens of Germans shot down as they fled. The systems of barbed wire entanglements which had formerly prevented approach to the fort were almost non-existent, most of them having been buried under heaps of earth. All about were dead rats killed by the fumes of the German gas.

The communication trenches had crumbled under the hail of projectiles and to go from one spot to another it was necessary to cross the open under immediate observation from the dominating heights of Nogent-l'Abbesse and Berry where the Germans have been installed since 1914.

The Germans were evidently still chagrined at the defeat of their carefully planned attack and as the correspondent with some colleagues was examining their lines, only a hundred yards or so away, they opened fire and swept the fort with several salvos of big shells. The only method of escaping further bombardment was to feign death and, when the guns had quieted a little to creep away in groups of two.

On the way the party was observed again by a squadron of German aviators who signalled to their batteries and once more the correspondents were bombarded until finally they reached the marshes behind the fort and comparative security.

Sioux City, Iowa, April 13.—John W. Norris professional impersonator of "The Devil" and who in this role has appeared here frequently in press club dinners, today refused to act the part of the kaiser in the honor flag raising pageant which Sioux City as the first city over the top in the Liberty Loan drive, will stage on April 19, the anniversary of the battle of Lexington. Twenty thousand persons will march in this pageant. The funeral of the kaiser will be a feature section. Norris in declining the role of the kaiser said: "That's no job for a decent devil."

Solutions and Air.
Many of the solutions used by photographers are affected by the air, and so have to be kept in well-closed bottles. Every time a bottle is opened, fresh air gets into it, and the change in its contents is facilitated. To guard against this it is usual to recommend photographers to keep such solutions in several small bottles rather than in one big one, so that when once a bottle has been opened its contents are soon used up.

ABSENCE DID HELP

By CATHERINE PARSONS.

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Katrina flung her book on the ground and sprang to her feet impatiently.

"I'm a fool," she told herself crossly, "a stupid, silly girl! I came here to get away from Carter—because I thought I hated him—and I've never passed such a miserable week in my life!"

"Hello!" piped a shrill, childish voice near her. Katrina looked around and saw a small ragged little girl regarding her intently.

"I live over the hill in the gray house," she began by way of introduction. "I seen you sittin' here yesterday and you looked so sad that I thought maybe you got some trouble, too."

Katrina smiled. "How old are you?" she asked with more interest.

"I ain't sure. Ma says I'm nine and Pa says ten. There's so many of us we get mixed. We got eleven in all, countin' my cousin that spends a week with us once a year, an' Joe when he marries Mollie—if they do get married now. That's another trouble."

"Is your sister engaged?" "Well, she's been keeping company with Joe, but they've broke up now. Ma says it's all foolishness and she's awful upset cause she thought she'd got Mollie off her hands for keeps. And Mollie cries, and says she hates him and she won't ever get married to no one! I gotter go, now, it's supper time, I guess. I'll be round tomorrow, if I get time. My name's Elfreda, after my aunt that died. Good-by."

The next afternoon Elfreda came again. She was fairly bursting with excitement.

"What do you think has happened?" And without waiting for an answer, she went on: "Mollie's made it up with Joe, and they're goin' to be married. Ain't it grand?"

"Indeed it is, dear. How did it happen?" "Yesterday when Mollie was over to her place to work, the lady was all broke up because a young feller she knew had gone away from home to stay always because some girl give him the slip. An' she told Mollie if folks would have more sense such things wouldn't happen. When Mollie come home she said I could take a note to Joe, an' I did an' he grinned and said I was a good girl. He gave me a penny, too!"

For a moment there was silence, then the child seized Katrina and pointed at two figures crossing a nearby field. The man had his arm about the girl and their faces were radiant.

"That's them!" whispered Elfreda. "Ain't they made it up great!"

"Will you mail a letter for me, on your way home?" asked Katrina. "It won't take me a second to write."

It was dusk in the field by the old apple tree, but Katrina had forgotten all about time. She was thinking that the letter ought to reach Carter the next evening. Would he come? Wearily, she leaned her head against the tree and closed her eyes.

Unseen by her, a young officer hurried across the field towards the rustic seat. When he was quite near he called cheerfully: "Wake up and speak to me!" Katrina opened her eyes and for a moment gazed at him dazedly. Then, light dawned and she sprang to her feet.

"Why, Carter!" she cried. "You got your commission! Oh, isn't it wonderful. But what made you come? Tell me, quickly, please."

"Well, you see, I just couldn't keep away. I've missed you so, and I've hated myself terribly, and then, yesterday I got my commission and I'll have to go away, and I had to see if you would go with me—I knew you would never send for me, so I came."

"But I did send for you—the letter went an hour ago. And I begged you to come—shamelessly, I did!" His arms went about her.

"What made you do it, dearest?" he asked her.

"A ragged, dirty little girl. She made me feel so mean and lonely and miserable that there wasn't anything else for me to do!" Then, her voice changed, and she caught her breath in a sob. "Oh, Carter, I've missed you so dreadfully! There hasn't been a night when I have not cried myself to sleep and Aunt Alice thinks I am perfectly mad, I know. Please never leave me again—please!"

"I guess not! We'll be married the minute we get home!"

The next day Elfreda called to ask Katrina to come to Mollie's wedding. "I'm sorry, dear, but I'm going home—to my own wedding," she told her. "How will I do for a husband?" asked Carter, with mock ferocity in his voice. Elfreda looked him over appraisingly. "Well, I guess you're all right, but of course you ain't Joe!" Katrina and Carter laughed happily.

"Here's a present for Mollie," professed Katrina, slipping a bracelet from her arm. "And I hope she'll be as happy as I am!"

First European Artesian Well.

The first artesian well to be bored in Europe of which data is available is the tube well at Grenelle, in France, which was sunk by the French government between 1834 and 1841, in the hope of obtaining a sufficient supply of water for Paris. The depth is 1,798 feet, at which level a prolific supply of water was reached, giving an overflow at the surface of 600 gallons per minute.

Human Skull as Tallman.

The human skull is a gruesome tallman. Down to half a century ago, a belief existed in the north of Scotland that the skull of a murderer possessed supernatural properties. Epilepsy was said to be cured by drinking blood out of it, and even water from this hideous drinking vessel was alleged to have medicinal qualities.

Electric Oranges.

Prof. J. A. Fleming, in a lecture at the Royal Institution, London, to a juvenile audience, said that not many boys and girls knew that when they cut an orange with a steel knife and a silver fork a current of electricity passed through their hands. The acid in the orange acted on the steel, and the orange acted as a voltaic cell.

DR. WILEY SUGGESTS ELECTRIC FAN FOR BABY

This authority on food and health, discussing in Good Housekeeping, means for reducing infant mortality, said:

"The fan is an excellent apparatus for mitigating the suffering from heat. Air in motion carries away rapidly from the body, heat that it absorbs or that is radiated into it. No cooling process of this kind can diminish the natural warmth of the body, but it can minimize the discomfort that the infant must endure from stagnant air. It is well that the current of the fan be not directly on the infant's body, but over it or to one side."

COBB STILL LEADS BATTERS

(By the Associated Press)
Chicago, July 27.—Tyrus Raymond Cobb, Detroit, continued to lead American league batters during the past week. He played in but four games from July 17 to the following Wednesday. Last Wednesday is included in the averages released today. Although Ty dropped four points he still is far in the lead. Cobb is hitting within 17 points of the .400 mark which he is in hopes of reaching before the season closes. The Detroit outfielder failed to register a run for his club during the week, but his mark of 60 was five better than Harry Hooper of Boston, who is the runner-up in the run scoring department. Burns of Philadelphia, the Georgian's closest rival for hitting honors, is 44 points behind Cobb, with Sisler in third place 54 points behind the leader.

There was little change last week among the leading batters. Ray Demmitt, St. Louis, made the jump from 14th place to fourth. His mark last week was .292 and this week's figure is .320.

Burns, Philadelphia, continued to lead in total bases with 159. He has made 13 doubles, 9 triples and 5 home runs. "Babe" Ruth, Boston, has played in five games since the last averages were released, but had failed to chalk up any more home runs. His 11, however, remains high. He stretched one of his hits to a triple and now is tied with Cobb for three baggers. Each has made ten. Shean, Boston, added a quartette of sacrifices to his string and leads that department with 28. Sisler failed to steal any more bases, and his mark of 32 is high, although Bobby Roth, Cleveland is giving him a close run and is but two behind.

St. Louis, with three regulars in the .300 class, leads the league in team batting with .263. Boston leads in club fielding with .972.

Leading batters who had participated in 40 or more games: Cobb, Detroit, .333; Burns, Philadelphia, .339; Sisler, St. Louis, .329; Demmitt, St. Louis, .320; Ruth, Boston, .316; Baker, New York, .316; Speaker, Cleveland, .316; Graney, Philadelphia, .305; Pipp, New York, .304.

Zack Wheat, Brooklyn outfielder, made the best showing of National league batters, according to the averages published today, and which included Wednesday's games. Wheat climbed from eighth place to second place. He was hitting .306 when the previous week's averages were released. Now his average is .321. Lee Magee, Cincinnati, who was in nineteenth place last week moved up to tenth place.

Henrie Groh, Cincinnati, continued at the head of the list with an average of .350, which is a drop of 16 points since last week. Charles Hollocher, Chicago youngster, had climbed out 109 safe hits, Merkle, his teammate, leads in total bases with 139 which include twenty-two doubles, three triples and a like number of homers.

Cruise, St. Louis, with his six circuit drives, remained high man in that department, and Roush, Cincinnati, with 19 sacrifice hits, headed the sacrifice hitters. Max Carey, Pittsburg, added another stolen base to his string and leads with 41 thefts. George Burns, New York, has scored 61 runs, which tops the list. New York's mark of .971 remained high in club fielding and Cincinnati's .271 average continued high for team batting.

Leading batters: Groh, Cincinnati, .350; Z. Wheat, Brooklyn, .321; J. C. Smith, Boston, .320; Daubert, Brooklyn, .317; Hollocher, Chicago, .313; Roush, Cincinnati, .309; Merkle, Chicago, .309; Chase, Cincinnati, .304; Young, New York .301; L. Magee, Cincinnati .293.

Cashion, Minneapolis, finished the season strong in the American Association which closed Sunday, July 21. He added eleven points to his mark of last week, bringing his final average to .346 for the abbreviated season, according to unofficial averages published today, but which do not include the twilight games at Toledo and Indianapolis.

Riggert, St. Paul, who was in first place last week, was nosed out of second place by Taggart, Columbus, by one point. Shovlin, Columbus, made another sacrifice which gave him a mark of twenty, and broke the tie with Martin of Milwaukee. Stolen base honors ended in a triple tie. Roggett and Butler, of St. Paul who were tied with twenty thefts each were joined by Beecher of Louisville. Riggert was the only player to reach the century mark for safe hits. He drove out 101, which gave him the lead for total bases with 149. These included sixteen doubles, the same number as made by Cashion, seven triples and six homers. He led the home run hitters. Kansas City, pennant winners, led in club batting with .267 and Louisville with .261 led in team fielding.

Leading batters: Cashion, Minneapolis, .346; Taggart, Columbus, .329; Riggert, St. Paul, .325; Lelivelt, Louisville, .322; Good, Kansas City, .317; Hartley, Columbus, .314; McHenry, Milwaukee, .306; Kores, Louisville, .306; Sawyer, Minneapolis, .306; Shultz, Kansas City, .306.

HOW GERMAN HUSBANDS AND WIVES GET EVEN.

Amsterdam, July 27.—Husbands and wives in Germany who are weary of the matrimony are making use of charges of espionage to persecute one another, says the Brenish Westphalian Gazette, citing a number of incidents which recently have occurred. Many of these cases were of false charges but the victim was usually detained and subjected to constant surveillance by the police. Bogus letters play an important part in these cases. The Gazette calls for strong measures to counteract what it characterizes as "this growing evil."

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful."

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night... I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieve me until I took Cardui...

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again... I decided I would try Cardui... By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial.

ALLIED AIRMEN SET NEW RECORD

Washington, July 27.—An account of the activities of the French air service obtained from authentic sources today shows the suffering inflicted on the German army crowded into the Aisne-Marne salient. Tons of bombs are being rained from the air night and day.

During the period of the first two weeks of June, French airmen alone dropped 600 tons of high explosives on the Germans in the trenches, on rest billets, railway stations, and on munition works far back of the fighting lines.

A total of 27,673 flights were made for military purposes during that time, and more than 2,000 combats occurred in the air. In this fighting 199 German planes were destroyed or forced to land in French territory, and 161 others were damaged and probably destroyed, making a total of 360 enemy machines brought down by the French. Twelve of the French planes brought down were only damaged.

Coupled with this French effort today in the Aisne salient is the work of concentrated British and American squadrons and the airmen are at work night and day. Not a spot within the enemy lines is neglected and his retreat is carried on under the same deluge of bombs and machine gun fire from the air that played an important part in forcing a way for the advancing Franco-American armies to cross the Marne.

WILSON OPPOSED TO MOB SPIRIT

(By the Associated Press)
Washington, July 27.—President Wilson today in a personal statement addressed to his fellow countrymen, denounced mob spirit and mob action, called upon the nation to show the world that while it fights for democracy on foreign fields it is not destroying democracy at home.

The president referred not alone to mob action against those suspected of being enemy aliens or enemy sympathizers; he denounced most emphatically mob action of all sorts, especially lynchings, and while he did not refer specifically to lynchings of negroes in the south, it is known that he included them in his characterization of mob spirit as a "blow at the heart of ordered law and humane justice."

It is known that the lynchings of negroes, as well as attacks upon those suspected of being enemies or sympathizers, have been used by the German propaganda throughout Central and South America as well as Europe, to contend that the pretensions of the United States as a champion of democracy are a sham. Deeply concerned by the situation the president decided to address his fellow countrymen and to declare that "every mob contributes to German lies about the United States what her most gifted liars cannot improve upon by way of calumny."

The president's statement in full follows:

"My Fellow Countrymen:—I take the liberty of addressing you upon a subject which so vitally affects the honor of the nation and the very character and integrity of our institutions that I trust you will think me justified in speaking very plainly about it.

"I allude to the mob spirit which has frequently shown its head among us, not in any single region, but in many and widely separated parts of the country. There have been many lynchings, and every one of them has been a blow at the heart of ordered law and humane justice. No man who loves America, no man who really cares for her fame and honor and character or who is truly loyal to her institutions, can justify mob action while the courts of justice are open and able to do their duty.

"We are at this very moment fighting lawless passion. Germany has outlawed herself among the nations because she has disregarded the sacred obligations of law and has made lynchers of her armies. Lynchers emulate her disgraceful example. I, for my part, am anxious to see every community in America rise above that level, with no pride and a fixed resolution which no man or set of men can afford to despise.

"We proudly claim to be the champions of democracy. If we really are, in deed and in truth, let us see to it that we do not discredit our own. I say plainly that every American who takes part in the action of a mob or gives any sort of countenance is no true son of this great democracy, but its betrayer and does more to discredit her by that single disloyalty to her standards of law and of right than the words of her stemmen or the sacrifices of her heroic boys in the trenches can do to make suffering peoples believe her to be their saviour. How a hall we recommend democracy to the acceptance of other peoples, if we disgrace our own by proving that it is, after all, no protection to the weak? Every mob contributes to German lies about the United States what her most gifted liars cannot improve upon by the way of calumny. They can at least say that such things cannot happen in Germany except in times of revolution, when law is swept away.

"I therefore very earnestly and solemnly beg that the governors of all the states, the law officers of every community, and, about all, the men and women of every community in the United States, all who reverence American and wish to keep her name without stain or reproach, will cooperate—not only passively merely, but actively and matchlessly to make an end of this disgraceful evil. It cannot live where the community does not countenance it.

"I have called upon the nation to put its great emergency into this war and it has responded—responded with a spirit and a genius for action that has thrilled the world. I now call upon it, upon its men and women everywhere, to see to it that its laws are kept inviolate, its fame untarnished. Let us show our utter contempt for the things that have made this war hideous among the wars and history by showing how those who love liberty and right and justice are willing to lay down their lives for them upon foreign fields stand ready, also, to illustrate to all mankind their loyalty to the things at home which they wish to see established everywhere as a blessing and protection to the people who have never known the privileges of liberty and self-government.

"I can never accept any man as a champion of liberty either for ourselves or for the world who does not reverence and obey the laws of our own beloved land, whose laws we ourselves have made. e has adopted the standards of the enemies of his country, whom he effects to despise."

WOODROW WILSON.

Conspirator Promoted.

(By the Associated Press)
New York, July 27.—Captain Boy-Ed, former German military attaché in Washington whose recall was demanded by the American government because of his connection with German propaganda in this country, has received official recognition by Emperor William for his activities here. The Cologne Gazette, reporting a speech by Boy-Ed and referring to him as Naval Captain "von" Boy-Ed.

MESSAGE OF HOPE COMES FROM ITALY

Rome, July 27.—"The fifth year of war dawns full of hope for the Entente," Senator Guglielmo Marconi said to the Associated Press. "We have passed successfully through many severe trials. Other trials may be ahead of us, but in the light of the dogged determination and the undaunted courage shown by all the Allied troops in the past we may look into the future with all confidence and trust."
America and Italy have many points in common. Above all, they feel that both fought and won their independence. Both have always stood for liberty, for the freedom of nationalities.
"We have now reached the crisis in the war. The Germans will know if they do not obtain a decisive victory this year, that they will themselves infallibly be defeated when America has had time to put her full strength into the task. Therefore the Germans are throwing all their available men against the various points of our defensive line, hoping to break through somewhere and bring about an immediate decision."
"The position at present may be compared with the gigantic Battle of Waterloo, the armies of France and Italy, representing the English in the famous battle, holding out for all they are worth against the enemy's frenzied attacks in order to afford time for Americans to enter the fight and make victory certain, thus changing our iron determination, that the enemy shall not pass, into the certainty that we shall drive him before us into the heart of his own country."

Prince Calonna, Mayor of Rome, wrote the following for the Associated Press:
"With redoubled hopes of speedy victories, the world enters the fifth year of the war against the forces of barbarism and evil. Never have we doubted that the cause of right and justice would triumph in the end, but what now makes us confident that this result is indeed inevitable is the thorough participation by America in the war."
"The common ideals of justice which have led the great American Republic into the struggle have already when splendidly defined by Ambassador Page, who is so dear to us, when he said:
"Throughout her age-long history, Italy, our great Mother, conferred two gifts on humanity—constant faith in liberty and right, and the discovery of the world. The new world, having been inspired all along in its history by those principles of law, did not hesitate to confer all her richest blood, all her sons, when she saw liberty threatened, in order that the priceless inheritance which originated from Rome should not be overwhelmed and destroyed. Italy's cause is America's cause, just as it is the cause of all humanity, as its is the cause of Roman and Latin civilization."

WAR GARDENERS RESPOND TO CALL

Will "Keep the Food Coming" as General Pershing Has Asked.

BIG INCREASE THIS YEAR

Central West and Pacific Coast Especially Are Doing Well—National Commission Offers Prizes for Best Home-Grown Canned Vegetables.

Washington.—The war gardeners of the United States answered Pershing's call to "Keep the Food Coming." There are, according to figures being tabulated by the national war garden commission, 4,800,000 war gardens in the United States. These figures are incomplete and the estimates were made on reports received up to June 15. This number indicates an increase of 40 per cent over last year when there were 3,500,000 garden muniton plants at work. Figuring in the increased cost this year over last, further estimates will be made by the commission both on the number of gardens and the estimated crop value.
"Taking these early figures into consideration," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the commission, in making public the preliminary survey, "together with the increased canning demonstration work being done by the United States department of agriculture in cities and towns, we feel safe in saying the forecast of 1,500,000,000 quarts in tin and glass of canned stuff, made by the department, will be reached."

Big Prizes Are Offered.

The report points to the early planting season this year, which was made possible by weather generally favorable throughout the country. To encourage saving the garden crop the national war garden commission, which planted a 400-acre demonstration war garden at Camp Dix, N. J., is offering $10,000 in prizes for the best canned vegetables grown in war gardens, with the slogan "Back up the cannon by use of the canner."
In nearly every section of the country there has been an appreciable and encouraging increase in the number of war gardens this year, the commission announced. This has ranged anywhere from 10 to 60 per cent. In the Eastern portions there was a failure to note a gain on the early returns.

"The greatest percentage of increase," the commission's statement adds, "was made in the Central Western states and Pacific coast, taking any one section of the country as a whole. There an awakening has taken place which revealed itself in an enthusiastic, widespread drive to help home food production. Of the total number of war gardens in the United States, the preliminary reports show that more than 2,000,000 of them—2,278,000, to be exact—were in the Central Western territory. There was a gain of fully 50 per cent over the war garden activity of last year."

Eastern States Lagging.

"The Eastern states, including New England, New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, on the whole showed little increase over last year. In certain parts of all this territory there has been a better showing, and particularly has there been a greater activity among manufacturing concerns in providing land for their employees; but these gains have been counteracted to a certain extent by less activity in other places; so that the amount of food home-grown along the upper Atlantic coast this year will be slightly if any greater than last year. Better cultivation in hundreds of cases may make up for what is lacking in numbers. In New York the park department alone reports 2,000 war gardens 28 by 40. The total number of war gardens in this territory, as shown by the reports, is 848,000, of which 737,000 are in New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.
"The South has made an excellent record, certain states in particular having made notable gains. Including Texas and Oklahoma, there are a total of 1,248,000 war gardens in the Southern states this year, one-fourth of the number in the entire United States. California, Washington and Oregon show a total of 483,000 war gardens. That the war gardeners intend to save a great part of the garden crop is shown in the 200 entries received up to July 1 for the canning contests that garden clubs are organizing all over the country."

REJECTED BY NAVY; DRAFTED

Man Is Accepted for Service in Army After Qualifying as Postman.

Corvallis, Ore.—Ernest Chase, rural mail carrier, enlisted in the navy. After his final physical examination he was discharged as being physically unfit. Then he got a job as rural carrier and invested $40 in a rig, horse and outfit. After working 20 days he was called in the military draft, passed by the local examining board, and ordered to camp.
He doesn't know now whether to sell his rig and give up his job, or whether to take a "lay off" and trust to being rejected by the army as he was by the navy.

FARMERS STATE BANK UNDER NEW CONTROL

The Farmers State bank of Ada, has changed control and P. W. McKay has succeeded R. R. Cain as president. The charter of the bank is being amended and in the future the bank will be known as the Guaranty State bank. It takes over part of the assets of the Farmers State bank.
The new president comes from Wilson, Oklahoma, and is well grounded in the business of banking. Mr. Cain, the retiring president has been a resident of Ada for the past four years and recognized at all times as one of the city's best boosters. His plans for the future have not been announced.

AUSTRIAN SOCIALISTS WANT AGREEMENT ON WAR TERMS.
Amsterdam, July 26.—Austrian Social Democrats have introduced an interpellation in the Austrian lower house asking that the Government negotiate immediately with Germany with a view to jointly fixing war aims and peace terms and repeating Austrian readiness to negotiate, according to a Vienna dispatch to the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant. The Social Democrats assert that the Austro-Hungarian Government does not act sharply enough against the military party of Germany, which momentarily has the upper hand.

Sawing Through Diamond.

The old proverb about diamond cut diamond used to be true, but today a diamond can be sawed through by a thin disc of phosphor copper revolving about 3,000 times a minute. For many years all diamonds had to be sent to Amsterdam, where the Jews had a monopoly of the trade of diamond cutting. Even the Cullinan diamond was sent there to be "clef" in two.

Mandy Container for Tacks.

Cutting a small, triangular opening in one corner of a tin, or cardboard box containing tacks, screws, or nails, is a good and annoyance obviated in shaking out the small quantity desired. The opening should be on a large enough to permit the pouring out of a few of the articles at a time so that one or more can be poured into the hand, as desired.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Iron Rust.

Few stains are so obstinate as iron rust. They may, however, be removed from delicate fabrics by covering the spot thickly with cream tartar, then twisting the cloth to keep the tartar on the spot itself. Put that part into a pan of cold water, bring gradually to boiling point, and afterwards rinse in the usual way.—Exchange.

Airplane Needs Much Wood.

About 200 board feet of wood is used in the actual construction of the average airplane. To obtain this material it is ordinarily necessary to work over about 1,500 feet of select lumber, which often represents all that can be used for airplanes of 15,000 board feet of standing timber.

OFFICIAL FOOD NEWS OF FEDERAL FOOD ADMINISTRATION

J. CECIL BROWN,
Director of Education,
Oklahoma City.

SAVING OF WHEAT MUST CONTINUE

There must be no slackening of the wheat conservation program in Oklahoma, according to C. B. Ames, federal food administrator for the state. Judge Ames' declaration was made because of a widespread impression that with the new crop restrictions would be abolished.
While persons who made pledges not to use any wheat have been released from those pledges, the limit of six pounds of flour a month for each person in the family and the fifty-fifty rule for substitutes still maintain.

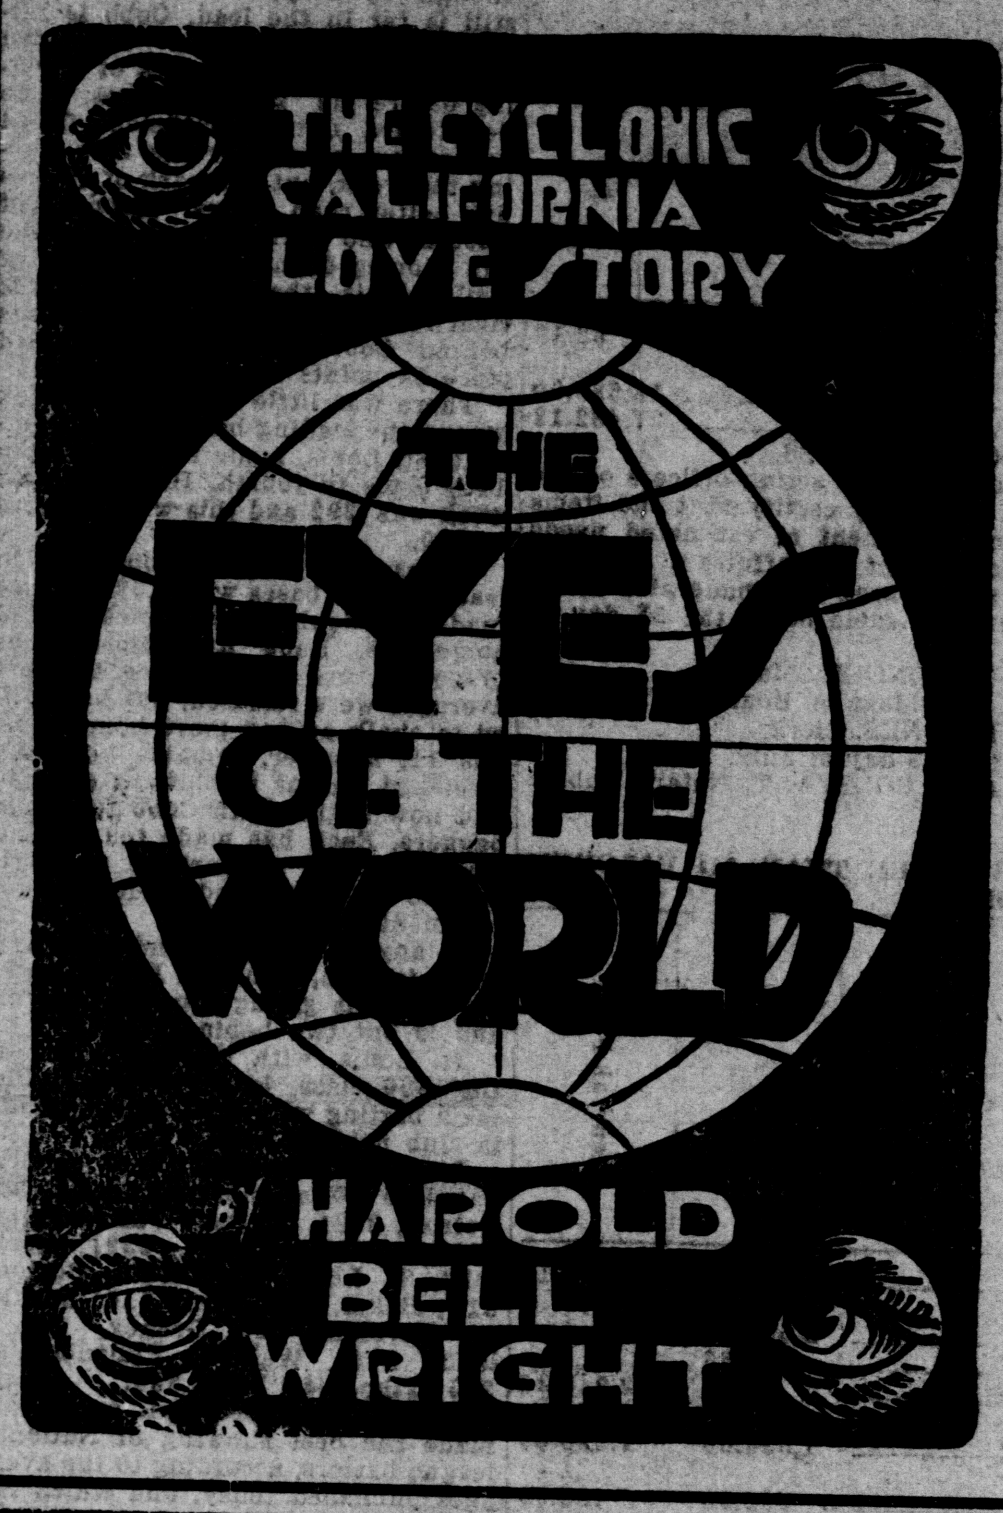

The food administration will exert every energy to build up a great wheat reserve from the estimated 1,000,000 bushel 1918 crop. Only by building up such a reserve can there be any assurance against a possible shortage next year. The calling of men into the army now engaged in farming and unforeseen demands or crop failures that would bring a serious situation must be guarded against.

The importance of such a reserve was indicated by a cable to the Food Administration at Washington from the British Ministry of Food, asking that America continue to send all the wheat and other foods that can be given shipping space, to build up a bulwark of supplies in England against possible lean years to come. With this request, which will likely be followed by similar ones from France, Italy and Belgium, it is impossible for the United States, even in the face of the great wheat crop to return to pre-war habits of eating and wasting.
